Wm. C. Zantzinger, Esq.-A Washington letter writer under date of August 15th, speaking of Mr. Zantzinger says:

I learn that Mr. Zantzinger to-day deposited with Corcoran & Riggs the sum which these gentlemen deemed necessary to the proper adjustment of his various accounts. Messrs. C. & R. are prepared to meet that dishonored check, and I suppose this last great case of defaulting is at an end.

From personal knowledge of Mr. Zantzinger, we felt assured that the Government would not loose a cent by him, and that so soon as the matter was fully investigated, if the deposits he already had in the Bank were not adequate, he would immediately deposit money sufficient to adjust his accounts. He is an honest man, and a true gentleman in every sense of the word.

The travel upon the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad is rapidly increasing, as the road is extended. When completed to the State line, and when the connections are made thro' East Tennessee, we shall have one of the most magnificent thoroughfares of Travel in the Union. We shall then see one or two long trains of Passenger Cars pass our town daily. Travel is much more profitable to roads than freights. Hence, stock belonging to Companies along a great thoroughfare of travel, must where the principal business is freights.

We learn from the Asheville (N. C.) Spectator, of the 7th, that four miles of the Plank Road running south of that town has been completed, and the good citizens of the town. and visitors from a distance, are daily enjoying the fine ride the road that is finished affords.

RORERT MAKIN & SON'S CIRCULAR. LIVERPOOL, Friday, July 29.

The markets of this country have varied but little this week; their character have been chiefly determined by the weather prevailing in their respective localities, but most of them have been slow, and in some a slightly declining tendency; the weather here has been cloudy, with occasional rain, and this morning we have a renewal of showers, attended with a colder temperature; the business of the past two days, in wheat and flour, has been of moderate amount only, but spring grain and Indian corn, have attracted attention, and have been operated in to some extent. Egyptian beans commanding 30s 6d to 31s C. F. & L., and arrived, as well as distant cargoes of Indian corn, rather more

We have an extensive fresh arrival of wheat and flour, together, from the United States, and upwards of 12,000 qrs. Indian corn, thence and through the Mediterranean: in other respects our imports are comparatively light, and the general exports of the last three days rather limited than otherwise.

The general reports of the Wheat crop are less satisfactory than could be desired; warmth and sunshine are much needed, without which the progress toward maturity is necessarily retarded. Potatoes are variously spoken of, but their are many complaints in different parts of the country.

This morning's market was slenderly attended by town as well as country dealers, and though we have had rain throughout the hours of business; consuming buyers of Wheat acted much on the reserve, and the transaction were Tuesday. From the large quantity of flour offering ex-quay, a slight concession was made to effect sales, but the demand was on the whole of a limited character. There was little doing in Oats and Oatmeal, prices remaining unvaried. Barley scarce, and fully as dear.— . We had a quiet trade in Indian corn on the spot, for which we repeat our previous currency; sevcral arrived cargoes have been sold for feeding Miss Mary Welch, all of Roane county. purposes and somewhat more money paid.
